Higginson of Irma to act as camp nurse for the girls.

Regularity in Worship

"Irregularity in church attendance is a fault which must be charged against all too many who profess the Christian faith, and whose names are on the communion roll.

There is no substitute for regular attendance at the House of God. We need the weekly hour of worship to recall our thoughts from the work and care of every-day life, to furnish opportunity for joining with our fellow Christians in the confession of sin, the giving of thanks, and the offering of supplications for ourselves and others. It is by the regular, not the spasmodic hearing of the word of God that we become instructed in truth and righteousness.

If God gives us health, let not our place be empty on any Sabbath of the coming month. For the encouragement of our minister, for the strengthening of God's work, for our own soul's good, let us be regularly at church."—From the United Church Record.

Jarrow Wins from Orbindale Red Stars Team

At 6:30 p.m. the Orbindale Red Stars and Jarrow "Hicks" played an exciting nine innings of baseball, giving the crowd good value for their money, barring the first innings when Jarrow scored three runs, Jarrow stepping in and scoring six runs, the teams were very evenly matched. Timely hitting, an odd error, and the game at the first half of the ninth inning was tied 9-9. Jarrow club last at bat got two men on bases, no one down, and a nice single scored the winning run, 10-9.

The Jarrow ball club should make a good showing this year. Here's to your success!

The softball game between the Kinsella girls' team and Jarrow mixed (one girl) team, was an example of good sportsmanship. This game was ragged in spots and the score was therefore a large one. Jarrow club won the honors, 30-21.

Heard at the poker party: "What makes you think he is quite a musician?" "Well, he's always tooting his horn when he's around town, and playing second fiddle when he's at home."

One Jarrow citizen has hit on a new scheme. He has persuaded his wife that she ought to learn to play the mandolin, and his theory is that then she will have something else to pick on besides himself.

Crop Report.

No. 3, 1935

Issued by Alberta Dept. Agriculture

Edmonton, June 5, 1936.—Wheat seeding in the late districts of the north was completed a week ago. Some decrease in wheat acreage in the west-central and northern districts has resulted from the late spring, with a corresponding increase in coarse grains. Seeding of coarse grains is practically finished in southern and central areas and south of the Peace River. In the Edmonton zone and north of the Peace about 25 per cent of coarse grain seeding remains to be done. Work on summer-fallow is well under way in the south and east-central parts and in the Grande Prairie district.

Exceedingly hot, dry weather was prevalent over the province the week of May 26th. Fortunately the heavy rains of the previous week had provided sufficient surface moisture in southern sections to bring crops thru the hot spell in reasonably good condition, but rain is now needed from Calgary south and in eastern districts north to Lloydminster for continued normal growth. Cooler weather of the present week has afforded some relief in these areas. The recent hot weather was most beneficial to the late sections of the centre and north, very rapid growth making up to some extent for earlier delay in seeding. There is still abundance of reserve moisture in these districts. During the present week showers have occurred at scattered points, heaviest rainfall being reported from Calgary west and north to Red Deer. Only the Lethbridge section of the dryer areas reports precipitation of appreciable value since rains of May 20th. Light rains are falling from Red Deer north to the Edmonton area, with cloudy conditions over a large portion of the province, as this report goes to press.

Lack Of Purchasing Power

One often hears the comment that the prosperity of the cities and towns is dependent upon the prosperity of the farmers, but little is heard of its corollary, namely that the well being of the farmer hinges upon the prosperity of the urban centres, though the one is unquestionably as true as the other.

Possibly the latter has not been heard so frequently in Western Canada as the former because, until very recent times, the farmers' income has been largely derived from an exportable surplus of grain. Under such circumstances the consumer of the bulk of Western Canadian farm products was geographically remote and the fact that the affluence or otherwise of the consumer was of considerable import was but dimly perceived, if recognized at all.

However, this relationship between the Western Canadian producer and the consumer of his products has undergone a change in the past few years and indications are not lacking that the change may be even more accentuated in the next few years.

In the first place, during the past half dozen or so of depression years, a substantial percentage of Western Canadian farmers have had little or no income to boast about. Because of a succession of dry years many of them had no crops to sell and others who reaped some wheat or other grains have not received sufficient price to render their work remunerative, partly because of the closing of former markets and partly because of the existence of a big carryover which could not be liquidated, except at tremendous loss.

As a result of their predicament many farmers, even with conditions somewhat more promising, have reduced their acreages seeded to bread grains and are endeavoring to increase their output of other products, including livestock, some of which are finding an outlet to a limited degree in overseas markets and others which, on account of their nature or because of lack of processing facilities, must necessarily be disposed of in local centres.

In the case of those products which are exportable, it is necessary to find new markets or expand existing markets. In the case of products which must be disposed of in local markets, consumption capacity must be increased if the farmer is to be able to dispose of such commodities at a price to yield him a profitable return.

Too frequently, in the past two or three years, farmers have had the experience of hauling or shipping produce to local centres only to find themselves faced with the choice of disposing of them at ruinously low prices or of taking them home again, unsold.

The irony of the situation is that in many cases, perhaps in all of them, the produce would have been welcome in the home of the potential local consumers but, because of conditions which made it necessary for the farmer to raise such produce, these people were unable to buy it, or only at such prices as to render the transaction unprofitable to the producer. In other words, the trouble was lack of purchasing power.

There is no question that local markets are capable of consuming a great deal more local produce if the consumer had the necessary purchasing power and this brings us back to the original statement that the well being of the farmer is dependent upon the prosperity of the urban centres and, so far as Western Canada is concerned, this is much more true than it was a few years ago.

If new local markets can be opened up and the purchasing power of the residents of existing local markets can be increased the problem of the farmer will be at least partially solved.

Fortunately there is every reason to hope that the next few years will see the development of new local markets with the discovery of mineral wealth in the northern areas and its development, a process which is being greatly accelerated at the present time.

This, coupled with an increasing influx of tourists from other provinces and the United States give ground for belief that new markets for local products are in the making. That the latter has real potentialities, is evidenced in the recent publication of statistics showing that more money was spent in Canada by tourists last year than was realized by the sale of Canadian export wheat.

As for the expansion of existing local markets that is, as already stated, largely a question of purchasing power, and how this purchasing power is to be increased is a question which is giving rise to a great deal of thought. Can it be done by some overt action or can it only be brought about by the ordinary evolution of economic processes?

One quiet student of affairs, whose name has never appeared in print and perhaps never will, suggested to the writer recently that it could be brought about almost overnight if ten or a dozen of the big industrial leaders of the nation would gather around a table and agree to increase salaries and wages all round. "Merchants," he said, "give much thought to the purchase and display and sale of their commodities, but little or none to the other half of their business—the ability of the consumers to buy."

No Time For Number

Bystander—"Did you get the number of that car that knocked you down, madam?"

Victim—"No, but the hussy who was driving it wore a three-piece tweed suit, lined with Canton crepe, and she had on a periwinkle hat, trimmed with artificial cherries."

Just wishing for things to happen never gets you anywhere.

Natives of southern China raise a great deal of rice, but seldom eat it; while peasants of northern China rarely see rice.

Maintain National Credit

By Meeting Obligations To The Full Extent Of Capacity

Members of Canadian Manufacturers' Association meeting at Quebec, lent approbation to the suggestion by their president, W. S. Morden of Toronto, that Canada, by application of "common sense and some old-fashioned methods, should anticipate the coming years with confidence and satisfaction."

The president, in a comprehensive annual review of world economic conditions presented at the annual convention, noted improvement throughout the world generally during the past year.

He was optimistic of the future but with his optimism came a note of warning against too ready spending and loose borrowings by government.

"One feature in connection with the increase of public debt that is giving concern to many individuals and business men," he said, "is the increasing proportion of government obligations that is being acquired by banking institutions. It is, of course, a sound banking theory that when business and industry are depressed and banking funds are abundant, government securities form an ideal investment."

"This theory assumes that when industry and business revive and there is a greater demand on the banks for loans, the government securities can be readily disposed of to the investing public. But it is a necessary implication that the amount of security so held should not be greatly in excess of the capacity of the investing public to absorb. It also is widely felt that if our various governments had to look to insurance, loan and trust companies and private investors as the chief purchasers of their securities the increased difficulty of floating loans would operate as a curb on borrowing."

Mr. Morden said the aim of Canada should be to maintain national credit "by meeting obligations to the full extent of capacity, refunding our debt at lower rates of interest whenever opportunities occur, and reducing expenses."

Steady improvement in conditions made it appear "reasonable to hope that the world, as a whole, is gradually recovering from the great depression, which culminated the progressive economic and trade disasters that followed and had their origin in, or were at least precipitated by, the dislocation of the war."

New Type Electric Bulb

Steam Light Latest Development In Modern Illuminating Methods

A cigarette can be lighted in a jet of steam made by a new type of electric light bulb invented in the lamp development department of the Nela Park laboratory of the General Electric Company in East Cleveland, Ohio.

Details of the new development have been made public. The "steam" light is one result of a revolutionary change in structure of electric light bulbs, made by a new art of welding metal to glass.

The steam bulb is about the size of a large house lamp. Set like a hood over its tungsten filament is a copper coil. This coil develops a jet of steam the size of a lead pencil almost instantly after the light is switched on. A piece of paper held in the jet curls up, smokes and turns to black ash. The steam with this burning power has a temperature of 1,100 degrees Fahrenheit.

The Only Thing Left

At a court function, we are told, Premier Mussolini stooped and picked up a handkerchief which King Victor Emmanuel of Italy and Ethiopia had dropped, and was profusely thanked by the monarch. Well, His Majesty should be grateful. It's about the only thing left he can stick his nose into, states the Windsor Daily Star.

Prince Rides Bicycle

When a Mongol prince, descendant of a long line of hardriding horsemen, abandons his pony for a bicycle, it is news in the frontier settlement of Kweihua, Inner Mongolia. Prince Khang, a leading Mongol dignitary, shocked his compatriots recently by appearing on the main street of Kweihua on a bicycle.

Forgot To Forget

One of our newspaper friends says the Windsor Daily Star brings a good story of the absent-minded professor who had suddenly found himself at a dinner when he didn't want to attend. The professor rambled on something like this: "I didn't mean to attend this affair tonight. I meant to forget to come, and I forgot to forget."

Was Partly Modern

Proclamation Of Coronation Date Broadcast To Empire

With formal and ceremonies inherited from the immemorial past, the date of the coronation of King Edward VIII. was duly proclaimed in London. But modern science and usage intruded even into mediaeval pageantry.

When the Earl Marshal, Duke of Norfolk, and his attendants stepped out upon the hoary walls of St. James's Palace, there was immediately in front of them a microphone to carry to the ears of the kingdom at large all that was said in the King's name. The proclamation set the date of the coronation as May 12, 1937. The date was announced in a special issue of the London Gazette.

While a fanfare blared from the silver trumpets of the Horse Guards, the Garter Principal King of Arms, with white-gloved hands, unrolled a long scroll nearly a yard wide. In sonorous tones he began his reading. The King's guard of Grenadiers stood at attention, and the great crowd hushed into silence. By means of amplifiers, every sentence was heard distinctly to the farthest limits of the throng. Farther away on the battlemented ivy-clad walls of the palace, stood members of the King's personal household.

Sir Gerald read the proclamation, "Declaring His Majesty's pleasure touching his royal coronation and the solemnity thereof." The reading took nearly 10 minutes. It opened with a reference to "the favour and blessing of almighty God" and spoke of "our princely care for the preservation of the lawful rights and inheritances of our loving subjects."

Big Prize For Air Race

Race From England To South Africa In September

Sir Alan Cobham announced that T. W. Schlesinger, South African millionaire, has given £10,000 ($50,000) prize money for the proposed air race from England to South Africa to coincide with the British empire exhibition at Johannesburg.

Schlesinger is promoting the race with Cobham, himself a pioneer long-distance flyer, as consultant. The Johannesburg exhibition opens Sept. 15 and will run until Jan. 15, 1937. The air race proposal has the approval of the British air ministry and the South African government has promised every assistance.

Entire organization of the race will be undertaken by the Royal Aero Club of Great Britain and participation will be limited to British empire pilots and aircraft. In this respect it will differ from the London-to-Melbourne race of 1934 which was open to all-comers.

Cobham said Schlesinger's motive in arranging the event was the promotion of commercial aircraft and the furtherance of air interest on the part of citizens of the British empire. But chiefly, he said, the race was intended to focus attention on the Johannesburg exhibition.

Cobham added the race would show that the day was not far distant when it will be possible to spend a weekend in Johannesburg. Possibly, he predicted, the flight will be accomplished in two days.

Feather In Your Cap

Phrase Originated From Custom That Is Almost Universal

This phrase means that something is an honor to you. The allusion is to the very general custom in Asia and among the American Indians of adding a feather to the headgear for every enemy slain. The ancient Lydians, and many others had a similar custom, and it is still usual for the English sportsman who kills the first woodcock to pluck out a feather and stick it in his cap. The custom in one form or another seems to be almost universal. In Hungary at one time none might wear a feather but he who had slain a Turk, and it will be remembered that when Gordon quelled the Taiping rebellion he was honored by the Chinese government with the "yellow jacket and peacock's feather."

Famous Canadian Artist

Home Watson Dies In His 81st Year At His Home In Ontario

Home Watson, one of Canada's outstanding artists, died at his home near Kitchener, Ont., in his 81st year. He had been ill for several months.

In the same rural community where he died, Homer Watson was born in 1855 and began his art career without tuition of any kind.

In 1880 the Marquis of Lorne purchased "The Pioneer Mill," exhibited by Watson at the Royal Canadian Academy. This painting and another of Watson's early works, "Last of the Drift," went to the private collection of Queen Victoria. Watson's fame spread and he made several trips to England, exhibiting with the famous artists of his day.

His outstanding contribution to the history of the Great War was his panoramic "Valcartier Camp," done under assignments by the Canadian government in 1914.

Do Not Shoot the Birds

The season is at hand when "the call of the wild" sounds imperatively in the ears of young lads. Woodland and river bank will be haunted by them whenever an opportunity to get away from the home premises presents itself. Occasionally a "twenty-two" or an air gun will be taken along, and with a gun in hand, targets are a necessity.

Generally speaking boys are much more careful to do what they can to protect song birds than they were years ago. Bird-nesting is not a popular sport as it used to be and shooting is done with more discrimination. Even so, a reminder that song birds are protected by law in Alberta will not be amiss. And, of course, game birds may not be shot out of season.

Special care should be taken never to shoot a pigeon. Any seen will belong to some person and some of them may be on government service. The Saskatoon Star-Phoenix explained recently that the federal government has pigeon lofts in many parts of Canada and, within recent years, has had training grounds north of Saskatoon. At Cormorant, on the Hudson Bay railway the government has about 100 birds of high value which were trained under the supervision of an expert pigeonier brought from Wales.

While the federal government maintained their aeroplanes for forestry service and fire protection in the Pas district, and in the neighborhood of the Saskatchewan border, pigeons were carried in every aeroplane that took to the air. They were used to send messages back to the base if the pilot was forced down, or in case of any other emergency.

Shooting a pigeon may easily cost the life of a human being who is dependent on it for the bringing of help.—Edmonton Journal.

Motorists Prayer

The Rev. Dr. Frederick S. Fleming, rector of Trinity Church, New York, recently announced he had directed the copies of "The Motorist's Prayer" which originally appeared in the London Church Times, be printed and distributed to the public.

The prayer follows:
 Grant me a steady hand and watchful eye,
 That no man shall be hurt when I pass by,
 Thou gavest life, and I pray no act of mine
 May take away or mar that gift of Thine.
 Shelter those, dear Lord, who bear me company,
 From evils of fire and calamity.
 Teach me to use my car for others' need,
 Nor miss through love of speed
 The beauties of Thy world; that thus I may
 With joy and courtesy go on my way.

Strong Resolution from Calgary

The following resolution was recently passed by the East Calgary Federal Liberal Association:

"WHEREAS the fantastic theories and impractical unwise policies of the Aberhart Administration have shattered public confidence, impaired Provincial Credit, stifled legitimate business and are rapidly bringing the Province to the verge of financial and economic collapse;

"AND WHEREAS the need is urgent for the restoration of public confidence and the achievement of economic security for Alberta people and it is obvious that the early application of wise and sound Liberal policies affords the only reasonable hope and assurance against impending disaster.

"NOW THEREFORE the East Calgary Federal Liberal Executive urges the Executive of the Provincial Liberal Association to call without delay a Provincial Convention for the following purposes:

1. To formulate a truly Liberal Provincial program designed to effectively bring order out of the existing chaos, to merit and win back public confidence in Government, to restore and renew faith in Alberta's integrity and honesty and to achieve economic security for the people of this Province, and
2. To select a Provincial Liberal leader who will fearlessly and zealously proclaim the principles of Liberalism and their application to the solution of the perilous problems facing the Alberta people."

Life In Garden of Eden

The inhabitants of Eden plainly lived without toil. They were born for that leisure for which we strive so fiercely in this work-a-day world. So far as the man was concerned the sting of the expulsion was the fact that he had to go forth and eat bread in the sweat of his face. Jehovah did not enforce this sentence at hard labor by putting a guard over Adam. Eve was not placed in charge, nor yet the wily serpent. The offender was merely driven forth from the garden that was full of trees. The trees had made it paradise. Every tree that was pleasant to the sight and good for food was there. The inhabitants walked about in the comfortable shade and ate. When thirst arose there were the juices of fruits and palm wine. The spontaneous products of the garden even supplied the first demand for clothes. On that bitter day of the expulsion these erstwhile happy harvesters of tree-crops were driven forth from this rich and fruitful shade, driven to the fields to eat the herb of the field and to win bread by the sweat of their faces.—J. Russell Smith, in the Atlantic.

Stamp Money Proposed

(Hanna Herald)

The Alberta government is about to launch into a venture which is a kind of social credit, namely the issuing of a substitute for money which will be used to pay workers. The cabinet has been itching to get into this experiment for some time and now the plan has been sufficiently advanced to get an idea of its rudiments.

As far as we can discover the new scheme is merely the oft-suggested "stamp money" idea. The "money" is in the form of bonds upon which a stamp must be affixed with every transaction. The purchase of the stamps provides funds for the ultimate redemption of the certificates.

It may be that the plan will work out, although the difficulties in the way of success are manifold and many of them unforeseen. Anyway, something must be done, as ten months have now elapsed and Social Credit dividends seem just as far away as ever.

If this scheme works smoothly and satisfactorily we will eat a lot of remarks we have made from time to time about the Aberhart government—along with a side order of crow.

The Knocker's Creed

Man comes into this world without his consent, and leaves it against his will. During his stay on earth, his time is spent in one of contraries and misunderstanding.

In his infancy he is an angel, in his boyhood he is a devil, in his manhood he is everything from a lizard up. In his duties he is a damned fool. If he raises a family he is a chump. If he raises a cheque he is a thief and the law raises hell with him.

If he is a poor man, he is a poor manager and has no sense. If he is rich, he is dishonest, but considered smart; if he is a politician, he is a grifter and a crook, if he is out of politics you can't place him and he is an undesirable citizen; if he goes to church he is a hypocrite, if he stays away he is a sinner; if he donates liberally to foreign missions, he does it for show, if he don't he is stingy and a tight-wad.

When he first comes into this world, everyone wants to kiss him, before he goes out they all want to kick him; if he dies young there was a great future before him, if he lives to a ripe old age, then of course he is living to save funeral expenses.

Life is a damned funny thing, isn't it? —Ex.

The Croaker

Once on the edge of a pleasant pool,
 Under the bank where 'twas dark and cool,
 Where rushes nodded and grasses swung,
 Just where the creek flowed out the bog,
 There lived a grumpy and mean old frog,
 Who'd set all day in the mud and soak
 And just do nothin' but croak and croak.
 Till a blackbird hollered, "I say, yer know,
 What is the matter down there below?
 Are you in trouble, or po'ly or what?"
 The frog sez, "Mine is a awful lot;
 Nothin' but mud and dirt and slime—
 It's a dirty world!" so the old fool spoke.
 "Croakity-croakity-croakity-croak!"
 "But yer lookin' DOWN!" the blackbird said;
 "Look at the blossoms overhead,
 Look at the lovely summer skies,
 Look at the bees and butterflies;
 Look UP, old fellow. Why, bless your soul,
 Yer lookin' down in a muckrat hole!"
 But still with a gurglin' sob and choke
 The blame old critter would only croak,
 And a wise old turtle, who boarded near,
 Sez to the blackbird, "Friend, sez here:
 Don't shed no tears over him, fer he
 Is low-down, jest 'cause he likes ter be;
 He's one er them kind er chumps that's glad
 Ter be mis-rable-like and sad;
 I'll tell yer somethin' that ain't no joke,
 Don't waste yer sorer on folks that croak." —Ex.

Mr. Aberhart and the Press

(From the Vancouver Sun)

Premier Aberhart of Alberta attacks the press for what he calls "coloring" and falsifying news stories and would like to see all newspapers subject to a license.

What Mr. Aberhart means is that he would like to suppress all newspapers except those who pat him on the back and feature his own peculiar propaganda. The Alberta premier is sensitive to the point of absurdity.

While speaking of our cultural heritage our government must not forget the loss of educational experts. Already five of the leading educational men of the province have seen fit to go elsewhere and it is to be hoped that Premier Aberhart as minister of education has not lost sight of this angle of our development in his quest for prosperity for all.—Peace River Record.

SPORTS

Interest in the coming battle between Schending and Louis on the 18th is stirred by the news from the respective camps. Each man is willing to tell just how he expects to put the other to sleep. Many a mother has longed for a simple method of putting baby to sleep, quickly and quietly. These boys each claim to have the ideal process, and appear anxious to demonstrate. Pick your winner now please, and leave your selection with Joe McLaugherty. He will tell you after the fight whether or no you are a good picker.

The tennis world received a great shock when Yugoslavia defeated France in the Davis cup zone contest. Only a few years ago France dominated the world in this game, and still ranks top-notch, so this downfall is astounding.

Dizzy Dean talks less than he did, but keeps on twirling ball. He won his 11th game of the season by defeating the Giants on Sunday last. He is doing his best to earn the increased salary.

Miss Eleanor Petrick is 17 years old and demonstrates her ability to beat the best frog in the pond, by making a standing jump of 5 ft. 11 1/2 ins. If you think lightly of that effort, just try it yourself. Boy or girl, you will find you just can't do it.

To assist the judges at horse races, the camera is used on many of the big tracks to record the finish. Just a "nose" or an inch or two may separate the winner, and mean many thousands of dollars difference from a "dead heat". Thus science comes to the aid of the human eye, settling disputes that would otherwise be disputed. In five or six minutes after the race the print is finished ready for the judges to study and select the winner.

Quite a stir is being caused by a horse-race down in Texas, with the distance 184 miles and the prize $1,000.00. Some 15 entrants are aiming for that prize. Such a race calls for brains for the rider and brawn for the horse.

"I thought you were going to marry that school ma'am," said a friend here to a Jarrow young fellow. "I had intended to propose to her but I found I wasn't in it," the young fellow replied. "How so?" he was asked. "Well, the evening I intended to propose to her she said she loved Brownie, Kipling and Shelly, and what chance have I with a girl who is in love with three other guys," was the reply.

Heard among the young fellows at the Ryley dance: "She seems to be a very sensible girl." "Yeah, she wouldn't pay any attention to me either."

NEWS LETTER
FROM EDMONTON

By T. B. Windross

Edmonton, Alta., June 9.—During the past week the Alberta cabinet passed the orders-in-council ordering the cut in the rate of interest on all provincial bonds to an average of 2.50 per cent, and in consequence bondholders in Edmonton and their representatives held a meeting at the Corona hotel to organize a protective committee to look after their interests. This committee elected R. D. Tighe, K.C., as its chairman. H. L. Spankie was named secretary. A national committee is being set up in Toronto.

Following news of the action of the government word came from London, England, that the stock exchange there had banned all Alberta government bonds from the list of stocks handled. (Similar action was taken in connection with city of Vancouver bonds some time ago, it is stated.)

The election picture in Edmonton is changing from day to day as the date for the by-election draws nearer. Conservatives are holding a convention Monday and the C.C.F. held one the same night to select a candidate to oppose Dr. Walter Morrish, Liberal nominee. The Communists have offered to withdraw their candidate, Jan. Lakeman, providing that the C. C. F. will select Miss Alderman Crang, independent Labor candidate, as their nominee. The election will be on June 22.

Alberta's highway construction program began in earnest this week, with work being started on the reconstruction of the main highway from Edmonton to Calgary, between Edmonton and Ponoka, where some new roadway will be built in order to eliminate dangerous railway crossings, one the notorious "death corner." Double shifts were also ordered by the department of public works on the Jasper highway.

Hon. W.A. Fallow, Friday made an inspection of the Calgary-Edmonton highway section where camps have been erected for the workmen. He announced that plans for financing will not include issuance of "certificates" at present. The men are paid once a month in cash out of the $942,000 made up by the provincial budget of $542,000 and the dominion grant of $400,000.

Premier Aberhart stated before leaving the capital for Calgary Friday morning, that the inauguration of "prosperity bonds" as a medium of exchange in Alberta will take place in all probability within a month. The government is discussing the question with manufacturers, wholesalers and other business interests, he declared. The order-in-council is said to be ready for signing, but has not yet been signed.

Examinations for proficiency of workers in specified trades under the terms of the qualifications of tradesmen's act passed in the last session will be started by July 1 if the government's hopes are realized, according to Hon. E. C. Manning, minister of trade and industry. When arrangements are completed notification will be given those affected. It is probable the department will recognize permits issued by municipalities as sufficient proof of qualifications and will merely endorse these in such cases.

Inspectors will be appointed to take charge of examinations in each trade and assistants may be named where necessary.

A province-wide code for printers' prices is nearly completed, Mr. Manning announced, and the code may be ready by June 15. Printers agreed on the code more than a year ago and presented it to the former government but nothing was done about it and it is being revived by the present administration now.

No check-up of sales tax collections on express and mail order shipments of goods into Alberta from other provinces that are taxable under the ultimate purchasers act has been undertaken yet, according to a statement made by E. M. Gunderson, acting sales tax superintendent. He said that despite reports to the contrary the provincial government has not decided to abandon efforts to collect tax on such goods brought into the province through national transportation systems.

On some such things there is a check when they are brought into the province, such as automobiles when the purchaser takes out a license. No system of enforcing the law in such cases has been decided on yet as the sales tax administration is still in the experimental stage, Mr. Gunderson declared.

It was stated by R. MacKinnon, of Calgary, manager of the sub-Artic

Viking News Items

On Saturday, June 6th, an organization meeting of the Viking sub-local of the Alberta Teachers' Association was held in the high school. Among those present were Mr. Marshall of Irma and Mr. Taylor of Kinross. Mr. Taylor gave an interesting talk on the aims and work of the A.T.A. This was enjoyed very much by all teachers present.

The following officers were elected: President, Mr. Wm. Dean; Vice-President, Mrs. S. Clark; secretary-treasurer, Miss G. Gilbert; press reporter, Miss F. Gillespie.

The next meeting is to be held in the high school on Saturday, June 27, at 4 p.m. It is hoped that all teachers of the Viking district will be able to attend.

A larger district local meeting is to be held at Irma on Saturday, June 13, at 2 p.m. The programme arranged includes a banquet and dance. Teachers wishing to attend are asked to meet at 1 p.m. at Mr. Cary's garage.

The elimination contest held Monday evening in the Elks hall to select eight entries for the amateur broadcast to be held after the picture show here Thursday evening of this week, drew forth twenty-six entries, and also a large and appreciative crowd. With Dick Kiefer as announcer the program left nothing to be desired in the way of variety or excellence.

Bands, choirs, vocalists, orchestras, yodelers, elocutionists, pianists, old-time fiddlers, accordions, tap dancers, quartettes and trios, both vocal and instrumental, a twin act (Gordon and Stanley Hafez) guitar and song, all entered into the contest with vim and vigor.

The local C.N.R. yard presents a busy scene this week. One crew of men is doing ditch work, while two other crews are unloading steel rails. Five miles of old rail will be taken up and five miles of new and heavier rail laid. There are 75 men at work besides the train crews. After the new rail is laid there will be considerable ballasting of this part of the railway grade.

The Kinsella Junior choir under the leadership of Rev. Griffiths sang during the amateur hour at the Kiefer movies last Thursday. The youngsters were well trained and their voices blended in good harmony. This number was highly enjoyed by the large crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Jones, of Edmonton, accompanied by Mrs. E. J. Watkins, of Calgary, were guests of friends and relatives in this community over the week-end. They are former residents of this district.

On June 6th, a meeting of teachers and school board members was held in connection with the school fair to be held in Viking in September. The following officers were elected:

Honorary President—Mr. Elliott of Vermilion School of Agriculture.

President—Mr. S. Leford.

Vice-President—Mr. B. C. Gilpin.

Sec.-Treas.—Mr. E. Hardy.

Imperial Oil Limited plant at Fort Norman, N.W.T., that gasoline retail at that northern point will retail for 54 cents a gallon this summer, a reduction of ten cents a gallon from last year's price. Mr. MacKinnon arrived in Edmonton from the south during the week, and left for the north on the N.A.R. train Tuesday. He and his party of assistants will fly from the end of the rail early this week to the Fort Norman plant.

R. J. Magor, Montreal financial adviser, will not return to Alberta to continue his work for the provincial government, Premier Aberhart stated during the week. In a long interview given in Toronto, Mr. Magor said his work in Alberta had been finished and that there was no need for his returning.

Big game license fees for Alberta were changed from $1 to $2 and bounties on timber wolves, coyotes and cougars were set out under amended regulations of the provincial game act announced Wednesday. DRY FORCES
IN CONVENTION

The Irma W.C.T.U. had its regular May meeting Thursday afternoon, the 28th inst., at the home of Mrs. Locke.

The usual routine business was followed by the local delegate's report of Edmonton District Convention held at Ryley May 5th and 6th.

Chief among the high lights brought out at this convention were the addresses of Mrs. A. E. Cook and the provincial president, Mrs. Grace Knight. Mrs. Cook outlined the purpose and plans of the Alberta Associated Temperance Forces, which supercedes the Provincial Prohibition Association, that in turn was preceded by the Social Welfare. Its avowed purpose is "to eradicate the beverage alcohol custom and the manufacture, sale, use, importation, exportation and transportation of alcohol for beverage purposes." It recommends the erection of districts that shall conform in outline with the government planned municipal districts, which are being considered for health administration purposes. The executive and other business details were carefully outlined; some activities touched upon were publicity, pledges, finances and crime statistics in each district in relation to liquor.

One of the key notes of the convention was present-day legislation re alcoholics, etc. In Mrs. Knight's afternoon address she brought out some main points in the existing laws of this province re liquor regulations; she quoted largely from a compilation of data recently arranged by Mrs. Chester Gainer, who was the first woman lawyer in Alberta and at one time vice-president of the Prov. W.C.T.U. Many were surprised to learn that the indefinite postponement of the ban on liquor advertising leaves not only newspapers, but radio and all sorts of novelties, souvenirs and other media free to announce, recommend and urge the use of alcoholics for cooking, festive parties, etc. Also, that hours for Govt. liquor stores are regulated by Liquor Control Board, which may consist of as few as One member. Quantity of beer sold to one person in one day is limited to 12 quart bottles or 24 pint bottles. These are unopened and may be consumed off the premises. Rulings re interdictive and other matters pertaining to drunkenness, sale of liquor, etc., were clearly presented. Also the Dominion Tobacco Act was reviewed, with its strict rulings that forbids the selling or giving of tobacco in any form to persons under 16 years of age, whether for the use of that person or someone else; penalties attached.

A medal contest was a feature of the evening session, Marjorie Pike of Edmonton winning the medal, while the whole class gave splendid readings.

In her evening address, Mrs. Knight gave much food for thought in the material she presented in relation to her three queries: (1) How much law is there in the Liquor Control Act? (2) Are the future mothers of Alberta to be Christian and sober, or drunk women? (3) Why has the liquor trade such power over governmental affairs? Other interesting points brought out in this report were that in Bulgaria teachers are required to be non-smokers and non-drinkers; Mrs. Ward dominion W.C.T.U. president, was among those whom His Late Majesty King George presented with one of the silver jubilee pins; the W.C.T.U. of Canada, which has been in existence 50 years, now has 16,000 active women members, over a thousand

Meeting of Women's Auxiliary at Wainwright

(From the Viking News)

Fourteen members of St. Matthew's W.A., Viking, motored to Wainwright on Thursday, June 4th, to attend a special meeting in the Masonic Hall there. The W. A. of St. Thomas, Wainwright, were hostesses to the gathering, which included members from Heath, Edgerton and country points. Speakers for the afternoon were Mrs. Reed, Diocesan President; Mrs. McComas, Diocesan Librarian; and Mrs. Orris, Little Helpers' secretary. The address of welcome was read by Mrs. Bateman and the reply by Mrs. T. Matthews. Mrs. Hart of Wainwright was in the chair. The president's speech was one of the most interesting and inspiring that we have ever heard. Beginning with an outline of the history of the Auxiliary, which celebrated its golden anniversary in 1935 and now numbers 90,000 members in Canada, Mrs. Reed pointed out the scope of its work and the great need for wide vision and co-operation in carrying it out. In particular the speaker stressed the importance of the Admission Service, which all branches are urged to hold, even though, like Mrs. Reed herself, the members may be members of years' standing and even life members. No "don'ts" but many helpful "do's" concluded this splendid address.

Mrs. McComas and Mrs. Orris spoke more briefly. Mrs. McComas displayed some of her books on two tables, and showed the meeting various volumes from the lending library and free literature departments, as well as some fascinating project work for juniors and Little Helpers. Mrs. Orris made a plea for the co-operation of the parents in instructing the smaller children and aiding the work of the Little Helpers. The meeting was closed by prayers.

Following the meeting a most attractive supper was served by the Wainwright members, during which a piano duet was rendered.

It is hoped that this most enjoyable and profitable meeting may lead to the formation of a Deaneys W.A., to include Tofield, Viking, Wainwright and Edgerton, with similar meetings held each year.

"Why are you always at the bottom of your class?" asked a lotus father of his young son, when he examined his report card. "It doesn't really matter, dad," the youth replied, "We get the same instruction at both ends of the class."

"If you are tired of dancing, let us sit down and have a little tea-a-tete," said a high school boy to his new girl at the dance here. "No, thank you," she replied, "After such a big supper I really couldn't eat a thing."

Among the resolutions passed was one petitioning the Minister of Education to incorporate in the new course of study definite, systematic instruction in scientific temperance throughout all grades of public, high and normal schools; one asking the provincial government to dispense with curtains at beer parlor windows, and one to the Federal Government requesting steps toward an attitude of peace.

The PERFECT Chewing Tobacco

A Moral Renaissance

In a world riven with fear and mistrust, with greed, hatred and suspicion rampant between individuals, between economic, political and social groups and between nations, there must be much inward searching of souls, much communing of hearts in an effort to find the cause of all this strife in the hope that thereby a remedy may be found and once again nations may live in peace and people may pursue the paths of progress with hope and confidence in the future.

That there is much travail, seething and unrest at home and abroad no one can gainsay, and until some key has been found which will unlock the gate to peace and prosperity, there can be no assurance of widespread happiness and contentment.

What is this key, millions of people are asking themselves and asking one another as they view with dismay the ruffled waters of a troubled humanity?

Perhaps the answer is to be found in the statement made in the British House of Lords on March 19, 1936 by the Marquess of Salisbury, acion of the famous prime minister of the same name in the late Victorian era, when he said:

"The cause of the world's state is not economic; the cause is moral. . . If I may use a phrase which is common in a great movement which is taking place in this country and elsewhere (The Oxford Group) what you want are God-guided personalities, which make God-guided nationalities, to make a new world. All the other ideas of economic adjustments are too small really to touch the centre of the evil."

If such a statement were made from the pulpit it would probably be regarded by many as more or less of a commonplace, something to be expected from such a source, but when it is made by a peer of the realm in such an institution as the House of Lords of Great Britain, it has more arresting and significant effect and serves to emphasize what might be considered a platitude if uttered by others elsewhere.

The minds of many great leaders are being directed in this channel as is evident from recent utterances of other great men whose words, whether their political or economic creeds are accepted, inspire serious thought and consideration.

A similar idea was expressed about the same time by President Roosevelt of the United States when he said:

"No greater thing could come today to our land than a revival of the spirit of religion—a revival that would sweep through the homes of the nation and stir the hearts of men and women, of all faiths to a reassertion of their belief in God and their dedication to His will for themselves and for their world. I doubt if there is any problem—social, political or economic—that would not melt away before the fire of such a spiritual awakening."

Further testimony in support of this sentiment comes from Roger Babson, founder of the Babson Statistical organization, whose prophecies of future trends based on statistical data are regarded as authoritative over the entire continent. Mr. Babson recently said: "I expect a business revival. But only a spiritual awakening among the people can make it enduring."

These and other authorities and leaders in many countries of the world are unanimous in their opinion that before there can be a change in the national and international outlook it is essential that the viewpoint be changed and that, in effect, a moral renaissance is necessary for the national viewpoint can be none other than that of the individuals which constitute it.

It might perhaps be said: "What is the use of Canadians adopting an unselfish or a lofty moral viewpoint so long as the peoples of other countries exemplify a diametrically opposed outlook?" Such a restricted conception of purpose and duty could only serve to delay the consummation of the peace, concord and prosperity which the great majority desire to see. Reform and improvement must first come from within and spread outwards like the ripples on the water from the cast stone.

Whether one agrees or not with the doctrines of the Oxford Group movement, one cannot but recognize that when they draw attention to the fact that there must first be a change in the individual before there can be a changed national viewpoint, they are hitting the bulls-eye.

Keeps Passenger Log Book

Capt. William H. (Bill) Wincapaw of Boston, veteran Massachusetts aviator, keeps a passenger log book which everyone must sign before going aloft with him. The book now contains more than 50,000 signatures. The most unusual passenger load ever carried by Wincapaw was a group of 11 persons, each of whom was 83 years old.

Not So Cheering

Mr. and Mrs. Newlywed were silent as the train bore them homeward after their honeymoon. Mr. Newlywed was hard up. He had spent every penny on the honeymoon and his next pay-day was a fortnight off.

As they neared home the young wife gave a merry laugh. "I'm going to tell you a secret that will cheer you up, Billy," she said. "Before we went away I hid ten pounds in the larder."

"Yes," said her husband. "I know, I found it."

Not Given Much Credit

But Wives Of Early Western Settlers Did Their Part

First white woman to the plains of Western Canada was Marie Galt, who journeyed to the Red River in 1807 and later as far west as Edmonton, said E. A. Corbett, local historian, in an address at Saskatoon.

Talking on "Early Women of Western Canada," the speaker remarked early fur traders were notably reticent in giving credit to the women who accompanied them into new lands.

Mr. Corbett referred to the wife of David Thompson, one of the west's earliest explorers. Mrs. Thompson, he said, was a half-breed girl born at Ile a la Crosse in 1785, daughter of Patrick Small, one of the first white traders on the Churchill River. David Thompson married the girl when she was 14 years of age, and from then on she was his constant companion.

The speaker regretted Alexander Mackenzie had left little record of the part his wife played in his northern explorations.

"It is unfortunate," he continued, "that we know so little of the wives of the Selkirk Settlers, of such white women as the wife of Factor Rowland, who with her husband made old Fort Edmonton famous for its hospitality during the early years of the last century."

Asphalt In Petroleum

New Process May Make It Available For Paving Material

Oil wells which supply the gasoline to move vehicles were pointed out today as a new source of paving material over which to move them.

All petroleum contains asphalt, but much of it has not been utilized for paving because of impurities. By a new vacuum process of extraction, demonstrated at the International Petroleum Exposition, pure asphalt falls like rain out of a cloud of vaporized petroleum. The still in which this is done was invented by Dr. Sidney Dean, director of petroleum research at the University of Tulsa. The stills are towers made of heavy steel, 40 to 60 feet high and five to 22 feet in diameter.

In the interior of the towers are almost perfect vacuums. Into them is run petroleum from which gasoline and kerosene have been extracted. The liquid is shot into the vacuum tower at 6,500 degrees Fahrenheit, a temperature at which it instantly explodes into a cloud of vapor. Out of this vapor the asphalt falls completely pure in a coal black rain.

Collars Replace Riband

Holders Of Certain Decoration Must Change When Ordered

Holders of certain orders were their "collars" when the King held the second levee of his reign at St. James' Palace. That was because the levee coincided with the birthday of Queen Mary, and notices announcing it bore the footnote: "N.B.—May 26 is a collar day."

Collar days—there were 35 last year—are days on which, if decorations are worn, the riband of the Garter, the Thistle, the Bath, St. Michael and St. George, the Royal Victorian Order, and certain other orders is replaced by the collar of the order.

It is laid down in court regulations that collars must be worn after sunset, except by the King's special command, so that they are rarely seen at public dinners or receptions. The collar—with the badge of the order suspended from it—is worn under the shoulder straps or epaulettes of uniforms, fastened with white satin bows, 1½ inches wide, at either side.

New Northern Sea Route

Navigators Of Soviet Have Made Mariners' Dreams Come True

A new sea route has been opened by Soviet navigators after three years' preparatory work. The Russian cargo vessels have succeeded in establishing a route to the Far East along the northern coasts of Europe and Asia. Such a way has been the dream of mariners for centuries, though 10 years ago Nansen declared the idea to be impossible. An icebreaker fleet placed along the route has kept the channels open. More than 100 ships of the Soviet mercantile marine have this winter sailed along this roof of the world without a single mishap. Five radio stations keep vessels informed of weather and ice conditions.

Get Practical Training

High School In Jacksonville, Florida, Has Splendid Plan

In Jacksonville, Florida, high school boys and girls are getting training for future jobs in the community at the same time they attend school. They go to school part of the day and the other part they spend in the department store, advertising office, broadcasting station, theatre, hotel, tearoom, telephone office, learning practical work right on the job. Since the inauguration of the "Jacksonville Plan" about two years ago, 86 per cent. of the vocational pupils have secured jobs upon graduation, and the plan is spreading to other cities of the south and west. The majority of the boys and girls leaving high school today cannot go to college, yet their training is directed toward that goal. When they apply for a job, the employer asks: "What can you do?" The answer is, "I don't know, but I can try anything." The Jacksonville graduate says: "I have had two years' experience in a bank," or in an auto-mechanic's shop, or any other of the 43 different types of training positions in the community.—Christian Science Monitor.

Admiral Of Yacht Squadron

King Edward Has Office First Held By Edward VII

The King has become Admiral of the Royal Yacht Squadron, perhaps the most exclusive club in the world. Edward VII was the first holder of the office of admiral, inaugurated at his accession in 1901. The club itself was established in 1812.

A story circulated that the famous royal racing cutter Britannia is to be sunk to spare her indignity of the ship-breakers' yard. However, enquiries showed this report incorrect. The King has given instructions that the sails and rigging of the craft be sold, but the remainder of the equipment is to be stored and no instructions have been given regarding the hull. The Britannia was built in 1893 for Edward VII, when he was Prince of Wales. The famous cutter won 231 first prizes and 129 other awards in 625 races in the course of 43 years of racing.

Future Of Quintuplets

Dr. Allan Roy Daffoe Hopes They Will Become Normal Young Women

Dr. Allan Roy Daffoe's hopes the Dionne quintuplets will become just as normal young women as girls born singly rest largely now on the women to be entrusted with the education of the famous babies who are now two years old. Admitting he had few fears left about the babies' health, Dr. Daffoe said he and the other guardians will shape the babies' lives until they are 19.

Phones In Canada

Canadians Do More Phoning Than Any Other People

Canadians do more telephoning than any other people in the world. Statistics released at Montreal show every man, woman and child in Canada held an average of 213.4 telephone conversations last year. The United States with 192.4, Denmark and Sweden were next in order. In Canada there are 11 phones for every 100 persons.

A pair of size 39 shoes, costing $88 was made in Findlay, Ohio, for Robert Wadlow, the 18-year-old giant of Alton, Ill. The shoes, probably the largest ever made, were returned, however, because Wadlow said they "pinched" his feet.

Need More Scholarships

More Opportunity Required For Bright Students Without Means

Dr. R. C. Wallace, newly-appointed principal of Queen's University, stated at Ottawa that Canada needed more scholarships for her students. Dr. Wallace, president of the University of Alberta, succeeds Dr. W. Hamilton Fyfe, who accepted principalship of Aberdeen University. It should be possible for a student, irrespective of means, if he has the mental ability, to go right through school and college, said Dr. Wallace.

Regarding positions for university graduates, Dr. Wallace said: "People to-day are realizing more and more the importance of trying to help the trained person and many businessmen are recognizing this and doing all that lies in their power to prevent the trained person from going to waste."

"Sports have a real value in their correct place," he said. "We must remember that students do not go to the university for sports. That is not why universities were founded."

Known As Electric Man

English Farmer Can Take 150 Volts Without Feeling It

Invalidated out of the British army as a hopeless cripple after an attack of rheumatic fever, T. Lintott, a farmer of Teynham, England, has become known as "the electric man." When making repairs he never bothers to disconnect the wires. He can take 150 volts without noticing it. After leaving the army he threw away his crutch, mounted a motorcycle and learned to ride unaided. Since then he has not needed the crutch.

He is nine years old, his name is Auguste, he is slightly under five feet tall, and he weighs the trifling total of 1,760 pounds, but sudden, he is born a normal elephant, but sudden, he is stunted growing, and is a dwarf to this day. He arrived in a crate labelled: "Fragile; don't turn upside down."

Was Noted Explorer

Harry Whitney, Of New York, Dies In Montreal Hospital

Harry Whitney, of New York, noted explorer and big game hunter, died in hospital at Montreal recently. He was born in 1873.

In 1909 and 1910 he was the centre of a controversy about discovery of the north pole. Mr. Whitney had gone north with Admiral Peary, and in 1909 both Admiral Peary and Dr. Frederick A. Cook returned from the Arctic and both claimed discovery of the north pole.

Doubt was cast on Dr. Cook's claims, and Mr. Whitney entered the controversy. He said he had gone hunting while with the Peary expedition and met Dr. Cook, who left instruments, clothing and other effects with him which Whitney cached.

He said Peary refused to take them aboard his vessel, the Roosevelt.

When the controversy broke it was intimated Mr. Whitney had destroyed Cook's records or had purloined letters behind him. Mr. Whitney made only one statement, that Dr. Cook had told him of reaching the north pole and had sworn him to secrecy.

Mr. Whitney returned to the Arctic in three successive summers and continued to be a member of parties which went to the Arctic with Bartlett until 1930.

Reproduction Of Old Shop

Merchandise Of Century Ago Shown In New York

An American company 100 years ago made a pair of silk stockings for Queen Victoria. They are on exhibition in a Fifth Avenue, New York shop, with proceeds going to the Fresh Air Fund. The shop is a reproduction of an old store opened in 1827, and is furnished with counters, desks, a safe and a stove, some of which were used in the last century. Merchandise of 100 years ago is displayed.

Among the attractions on exhibition are the embroidered silk wedding hose worn by a bride in 1847 and a pearl and gold leaf handbag made of fabric from a priest's robe in the 16th century.

May Live In Palestine

Haili Selassie Is Considering Palace On Mount Of Olives

A palace on the Mount of Olives built by an emperor now in exile may become the permanent home of another fugitive sovereign.

Haili Selassie, who fled before the Italian armies, may make his residence in the Kaiserhof palace built by Kaiser Wilhelm II. for his wife, the Empress Augusta Victoria, after their visit to Jerusalem at the end of the last century. It was reported. At that time Palestine was part of the Turkish Empire.

The Negus recently visited the palace, which is now a monastery.

Crispy little rice-cheese balls are the perfect salad accompaniment! Make little balls of nippy cheese, spread lightly with mustard and horseradish, roll in salted, boiled rice to cover, and make compact balls. Deep-fry until a golden brown and serve hot with salads or as appetizers.

A new confection was recently seen at a tea. To make it, place dried cherries in a thick sugar syrup, and bring to a boil. Thus the cherries are made plump. A small piece of preserved citron may be fashioned into a stem and placed in the end of each cherry. Roll cherry and stem in granulated sugar.

Tiny crisp bread cubes added to a vegetable salad or a salad of greens create a new palate pleasure. To prepare the bread, cut slices of it into small cubes and fry them in butter until brown, or toast them under the broiler or in the oven.

Butter for sandwiches should be creamed until soft and smooth. When creamed, mix it with one-fourth as much whipping cream to give good spreading consistency.
